PREFACE.

EVERY student of History finds an Historical Atlas indispensable to his pursuits. The advantages derived from such a work are at present fully admitted. It is acknowledged, without exception, that without its aid History can neither be thoroughly taught nor perfectly understood.

All teachers of History have long felt the want of a collection of maps, exhibiting at a glance the successive changes in the distribu- tion of States with their attendant alterations of frontier; in other words, of A TRULY PICTORIAL HISTORY.

The object of this work is to supply this long-felt deficiency, by offering to teachers and students a connected Series of Maps, prepared expressly to illustrate the leading events of History FROM THE EARLIEST AGES TO THE PRESENT TIME.

ROBERT H. LABBERTON.

PHILADELPHIA, July, 1871.
